EESs

A?

The course will arrange Experience Exchange Sessions (EESs) on different themes. The target audience of each EES depends on the theme, and can be Scrum Masters and/or developers. There is usually a limit of max. 2-3 persons per team per EES.

Before each EES, there is usually a small pre-task, e.g. submitting discussion topic proposals related to the session theme, or preparing a small presentation on e.g. team's system architecture. The pre-tasks will be described on the CS-C2130 Google Sheet.

In the EES, there is typically some introduction to the theme of the day. Then the participants can discuss their own expriences from their projects in small groups or all together. Sometimes a guest expert from industry and course personnel will join the discussions.

A team earns 0.5 points from an EES, if 1) someone from the team registers to the session and makes the pre-task before the deadline, and 2) participates to the EES. At most 2 points can be earned from the EESs, even if more than 4 sessions were arranged.
